Putnam Europe Equity Fund

Prospectuses dated October 30, 2018

Putnam Investment Management, LLC (“Putnam Management”), the investment manager of Putnam Europe Equity Fund (“Europe Equity Fund” or the “fund”), has recommended, and the fund’s Board of Trustees has approved and recommended that shareholders approve, the proposed merger of Europe Equity Fund with and into Putnam International Equity Fund (“International Equity Fund”). Putnam Management and the fund’s Board of Trustees believe that the proposed merger is in the best interests of Europe Equity Fund and its shareholders.

Europe Equity Fund and International Equity Fund have identical investment objectives and pursue similar investment strategies, though Europe Equity Fund focuses on securities of large and midsize European companies, while International Equity Fund invests in securities of large and midsize companies outside the United States, without a specific geographic focus. A full description of International Equity Fund, the similarities and differences between it and Europe Equity Fund and the terms of the proposed merger will be contained in a prospectus/proxy statement (the “prospectus/proxy statement”), which is expected to be mailed to shareholders in early April 2019. The prospectus/proxy statement will solicit Europe Equity Fund shareholder votes to approve the proposed merger.

Completion of the proposed merger is subject to a number of conditions, including approval by shareholders of Europe Equity Fund. A special meeting of shareholders of Europe Equity Fund is currently scheduled for May 29, 2019, although the shareholder meeting may be adjourned to a later date. The proposed merger is expected to be a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes. If shareholders of the fund do not approve the proposed merger, the merger will not proceed.

The Board of Trustees of Europe Equity Fund has also approved the liquidation of class M shares of the fund. Class M shares of Europe Equity Fund will be closed to new investments (including exchanges) on or about February 25, 2019. Class M shares of Europe Equity Fund will be liquidated on or about March 8, 2018. Class M shareholders should consult their tax advisors about the tax implications of the liquidation of the share class.

If shareholders approve the proposed merger, Putnam Management currently expects that Europe Equity Fund may make dispositions of certain portfolio holdings prior to the merger. These sales, which are anticipated to commence in early June 2019 and will not occur unless and until shareholders approve the proposed merger, would result in brokerage commissions and other transaction costs, and may result in the realization of capital gains that would be distributed to shareholders as taxable distributions.

Europe Equity Fund will be closed to new accounts on or about May 20, 2019. At any time prior to the close of the proposed merger (or liquidation, with respect to class M shares), you can sell your shares back to the fund or exchange them for shares of another Putnam fund any day the New York Stock Exchange is open. Shares may be sold or exchanged by mail, by phone, or online at putnam.com. Some restrictions may apply. Such exchanges will be taxable transactions.

The foregoing is not an offer to sell, nor a solicitation of an offer to buy, shares of International Equity Fund, nor is it a solicitation of any proxy. For more information regarding International Equity Fund, or to receive a free copy of the prospectus/proxy statement relating to the proposed merger (and containing important information about fees, expenses and risk considerations) once a registration statement relating to the merger has been filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and becomes effective, please call 1-800-225-1581. The prospectus/proxy statement relating to the proposed merger will also be available for free on the Securities and Exchange Commission's web site (<http://www.sec.gov>). Please read the prospectus/proxy statement relating to the proposed merger carefully before making any investment decisions.

Shareholders should retain this Supplement for future reference.

Example

The following hypothetical example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the fund with the cost of investing in other funds. It assumes that you invest $10,000 in the fund for the time periods indicated and then, except as indicated, redeem all your shares at the end of those periods. It assumes a 5% return on your investment each year and that the fund's operating expenses remain the same. Your actual costs may be higher or lower.

Share class	1 year	3 years	5 years	10 years
Class A	$695	$949	$1,222	$1,999

Class Y	$102	$318	$552	$1,225

Portfolio turnover

The fund pays transaction-related costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when the fund's shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or the above example, affect fund performance. The fund's turnover rate in the most recent fiscal year was 53%.

Investments, risks, and performance

Investments

We invest mainly in common stocks (growth or value stocks or both) of large and midsize European companies that we believe have favorable investment potential. For example, we may purchase stocks of companies with stock prices that reflect a value lower than that which we place on the company. We may also consider other factors that we believe will cause the stock price to rise.

Under normal circumstances, we invest at least 85% of the fund's net assets in European companies and at least 80% of the fund's net assets in equity investments. This policy may be changed only after 60 days' notice to shareholders. We consider a company to be European if the company's securities trade in Europe, if the company is headquartered or organized in Europe, or if the company derives a majority of its revenues or profits from Europe.

We invest mainly in developed countries, but may invest in emerging markets, such as those in Eastern Europe. We may consider, among other factors, a company's valuation, financial strength, growth potential, competitive position in its industry, projected future earnings, cash flows and dividends when deciding whether to buy or sell investments. We may also use derivatives, such as futures, options, certain foreign currency transactions, warrants and swap contracts, for both hedging and non-hedging purposes.

Risks

It is important to understand that you can lose money by investing in the fund.

The value of stocks in the fund's portfolio may fall or fail to rise over extended periods of time for a variety of reasons, including general financial market conditions, changing market perceptions, changes in government intervention in the financial markets, and factors related to a specific issuer or industry. These and other factors may lead to increased volatility and reduced liquidity in the fund's portfolio holdings. Growth stocks may be more susceptible to earnings disappointments, and value stocks may fail to rebound. These risks are generally greater for small and midsize companies.

The value of international investments traded in foreign currencies may be adversely impacted by fluctuations in exchange rates. International investments, particularly investments in emerging markets, may carry risks associated with potentially less stable economies or governments (such as the risk of seizure by a foreign government, the imposition of currency or other restrictions, or high levels of inflation or deflation), and may be illiquid.

Investments focused in a single region may be affected by common economic forces and other factors. In addition, events in any one country within the region may impact the other countries or the region as a whole. Because the fund invests in European companies, the fund is particularly susceptible to economic, political, regulatory or other events or conditions affecting issuers in Europe. European financial markets have in recent years experienced increased volatility due to concerns with some countries' high levels of sovereign debt, budget deficits, and unemployment. As a result, the fund may have greater losses and be more volatile than a fund which is more broadly diversified geographically.

Our use of derivatives may increase the risks of investing in the fund by increasing investment exposure, which may be considered leverage, or, in the case of many over-the-counter instruments, because of the potential inability to terminate or sell derivatives positions and the potential failure of the other party to the instrument to meet its obligations.

The fund may not achieve its goal, and it is not intended to be a complete investment program. An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency.

Performance

The performance information below gives some indication of the risks associated with an investment in the fund by showing the fund's performance year to year and over time. The bar chart does not reflect the impact of sales charges. If it did, performance would be lower. Please remember that past performance is not necessarily an indication of future results. Monthly performance figures for the fund are available at putnam.com.

Actual after-tax returns depend on an investor's tax situation and may differ from those shown. After-tax returns are shown for class A shares only and will vary for other classes.
