* The fi360 Fiduciary Score is a peer percent ranking of an investment against a set of quantitative due diligence criteria selected to reflect prudent fiduciary management. The fi360 Fiduciary Score is calculated on a monthly basis for investments with at least a three-year history. The Score is calculated for open-end mutual funds, exchange-traded funds ("ETFs"), and group retirement plan annuities ("GRPAs").

The Mutual Fund and ETF fi360 Fiduciary Score is calculated against a combined peer group, including both databases. The GRPA fi360 Fiduciary Score is calculated against a combined peer group including mutual funds, ETFs, and GRPAs. (All investment data is sourced from Morningstar.) The GRPA database is limited in size and, because these investments are used interchangeably in the marketplace with mutual funds, the combined peer group provides a better analysis of the GRPA data. Each investment is then evaluated against a set of factors and thresholds and allotted points as described in the Criteria section of this document. The points are totaled and compared with all other investments within the peer group. Investments with 0 points are automatically given an fi360 Fiduciary Score of 0. Every other investment is then given a Score of 1–100, representing their percent ranking based on its placement in the distribution of their peer group.

Each Retirement Advantage Fund has a different target date indicating when the fund's investors expect to retire and begin withdrawing assets from their account, typically at retirement. The funds are generally weighted more heavily toward more aggressive, higher-risk investments when the target date of the fund is far off, and more conservative, lower-risk investments when the target date of the fund is near. This means that both the risk of your investment and your potential return are reduced as the target date of the particular fund approaches, although there can be no assurance that any one fund will have less risk or more reward than any other fund. The principal value of the funds is not guaranteed at any time, including the target date.

Consider these risks before investing: International investing involves currency, economic, and political risks. The funds may invest a portion of their assets in small and/or midsize companies. Such investments increase the risk of greater price fluctuations. Emerging-market securities carry illiquidity and volatility risks. Investments in small and/or midsize companies increase the risk of greater price fluctuations. Lower-rated bonds may offer higher yields in return for more risk. Funds that invest in government securities are not guaranteed. Mortgage-backed securities are subject to prepayment risk and the risk that they may increase in value less when interest rates decline and decline in value more when interest rates rise. Money market options are not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or any other governmental agency. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in this fund. Allocation of assets among asset classes may hurt performance, and efforts to diversify risk through the use of leverage and allocation decisions may not be successful. Bond investments are subject to interest-rate risk (the risk of bond prices falling if interest rates rise) and credit risk (the risk of an issuer defaulting on interest or principal payments). Interest-rate risk is greater for longer-term bonds, and credit risk is greater for below-investment-grade bonds. Growth stocks may be more susceptible to earnings disappointments, and value stocks may fail to rebound. The market may not favor value-style investing. Income provided by the fund may be reduced by changes in the dividend policies of, and the capital resources available at, the companies in which the fund invests. Investments in small and/or midsize companies increase the risk of greater price fluctuations. Stock and bond prices may fall or fail to rise over time for several reasons, including general financial market conditions and factors related to a specific issuer or industry. Risks associated with derivatives include increased investment exposure (which may be considered leverage) and, in the case of over-the-counter instruments, the potential inability to terminate or sell derivatives positions and the potential failure of the other party to the instrument to meet its obligations. Unlike bonds, funds that invest in bonds have fees and expenses. Active trading strategies may lose money or not earn a return sufficient to cover trading and other costs. Use of leverage obtained through derivatives increases these risks by increasing investment exposure. Over-the-counter derivatives are also subject to the risk of the potential inability to terminate or sell derivatives positions and the potential failure of the other party to the instrument to meet its obligations. REITs are subject to the risk of economic downturns that have an adverse impact on real estate markets. The use of short selling may result in losses if the securities appreciate in value. Commodities involve market, political, regulatory, and natural conditions risks. You can lose money by investing in the funds.
