

Five steps to help elevate your Financial Wellness

Life can be stressful — managing your personal finances doesn't have to be.

1. KNOW YOUR NUMBERS

 Track your spending for one month to see where your money is going

 Create a budget based on fixed monthly income and standard expenses

 Research your credit score

Evaluating your current financial health can help you be more intentional with your spending and saving.

2. ESTABLISH YOUR GOALS

 Identify your personal financial goals by short-, mid-, and long-term time frames

 Include any supporting decision makers in the goal-setting process

You wouldn't start a road trip without knowing where you want to go. Why should your financial journey be any different?

3. START A CONVERSATION

 Enlist a qualified financial advisor to help you get started on your financial path and stay on track with your goals

Financial advisors provide a wealth of value beyond investment advice.

From illuminating our blind spots to designing financial road maps, a financial advisor is a critical guide for our financial journeys.

4. GROW YOUR FINANCIAL KNOWLEDGE

 Plan for the challenge by using a bucketed approach to manage your savings priorities

 Ask questions about ways to minimize the five things that take money out of your pocket:

1. The impact of taxes
2. The rising cost of living
3. Low interest rates
4. Increasing health-care expenses
5. Procrastination

 Create a financial plan with your advisor and establish regular meetings to stay the course and adjust as life evolves

 Seek professional guidance on how advanced directives can protect your health, wealth, and legacy should the unexpected occur. Discuss your plans with loved ones.

 Devote 10 minutes a day to reading about personal financial planning

Time is our most valuable resource when it comes to building wealth, protecting assets, and growing our financial knowledge .

5. PAY IT FORWARD

 Support others taking charge of their own financial journey by elevating personal finance conversations within your network

Is there anyone important in your life who could benefit from financial advice?

Identify your financial goals

Use the following worksheet to identify your personal financial goals, when you'd like to accomplish them by, and estimated costs. Use this as a framework to start a conversation with your financial advisor.

Examples of goals* included in these inventories are:

- Purchase a home or relocate to a new city
- Live comfortably in retirement
- Pay off any credit card debt or major loans
- Support a cause
- Save enough for sudden loss of income
- Pay for any future health-care costs
- Leave a legacy
- Travel or fund a unique vacation experience

Short-term goals (0–2 years)

Goal	Deadline	Amount
1.
2.
3.

Mid-term goals (2–10 years)

Goal	Deadline	Amount
1.
2.
3.

Long-term goals (10+years)

Goal	Deadline	Amount
1.
2.
3.

* Source: Morningstar, <https://www.morningstar.com/blog/2018/12/12/goals-based-planning.html>

This material is for informational and educational purposes only. It is not a recommendation of any specific investment product, strategy, or decision, and is not intended to suggest taking or refraining from any course of action. It is not intended to address the needs, circumstances, and objectives of any specific investor. This information is not meant as tax or legal advice. Investors should consult a professional advisor before making investment and financial decisions and for more information on tax rules and other laws, which are complex and subject to change.